1. Why do you think there is so much silence around violence against women in our communities and institutions?
2. Why do you think some people consider violence against women an epidemic?
3. How do you understand violence against women?
4. What do you think are the most common types of violence?
5. In your setting (as health care provider, police officer, community member, religious leader, NGO staff, policy-maker, etc) what could you do to speak out against violence against women?
6. What are some things that you could do every day, to end the silence and speak out or take action against violence against women?
